Feature detail: DRM

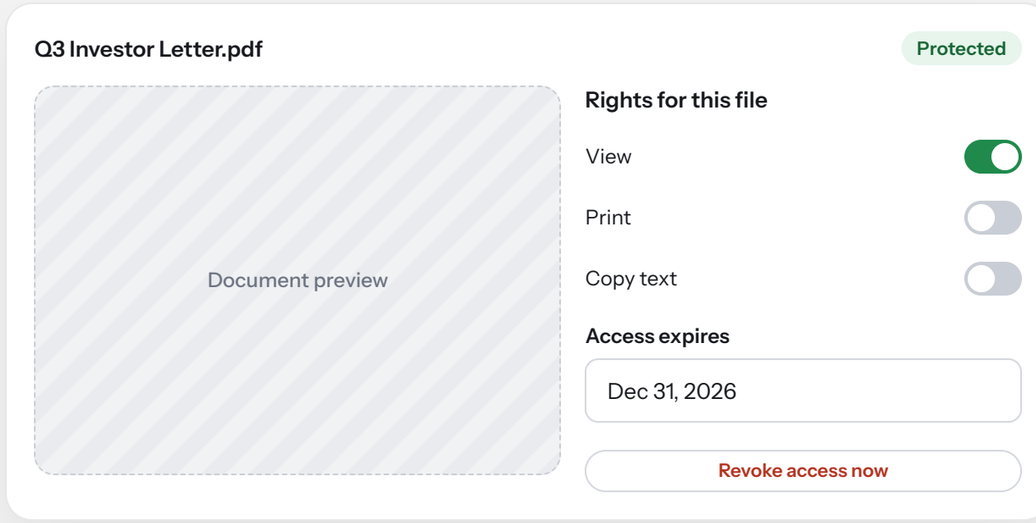

Template for the page behind each feature in the comparison table. DRM is the example because it needs the longest explanation. The tier pill tells visitors which plan includes it.
Protected files currently open in a desktop viewer app; a browser viewer is in development.

INCLUDED IN ENTERPRISE

Keep control of documents after they're shared.

Digital rights management travels with the file. Decide who can view, print or copy, set an expiry date, and revoke access to a document even after it has been downloaded.

Get started with Enterprise ▷ Watch a 2-minute demo

Rights that travel

Permissions stay attached to the file wherever it goes: inside the portal, on a laptop, or forwarded by email.

Expire and revoke

Set a date when access ends, or switch it off instantly. The file stops opening for everyone you choose.

See every open

Each view, print attempt and download is logged against the person, so you always know who saw what.

How it works

1. Upload or share a file from your portal as usual
2. Choose who can view, print or copy, and for how long
3. Recipients open it in the DRM viewer app on their desktop
4. Change or revoke rights any time from the activity report

Opening a protected file on a desktop requires the DRM viewer app. A viewer that works right in the browser is in development.

Often paired with Forensic watermarking and RBAC / ABAC, also in Enterprise.

Upgrade prompt

Opened from a locked feature (here DRM). Short description, demo video and what the tier unlocks. "Upgrade in Portal Hub" goes to 112 with Enterprise preselected; users without hub billing rights get "Ask Dana to upgrade" instead.

Integrations catalog

Zendesk-style catalog of one-click connections. Which of these count as "standard integrations" on every tier is still an open question; the screen shows the full list. Custom integrations are professional services.

Portal home: client (External User) view

What a Cedar Ridge client (Ellen, Harper Family Trust) sees. Simpler nav (Home, Documents, Forms, Messages), the welcome page written in setup (303), a checklist of what the firm needs from them, their advisor and documents shared with them. No Projects, Tools, setup or plan information.
